

Harumi Nakashima

Harumi Nakashima, based in the port city of Nagoya Japan, creates stunning hand-built porcelain sculptures of incredible complexity and beauty. Taking great care to achieve a flawless surface and form, each piece is created over the course of six months.

A celebrated avante garde ceramicist, Nakashima is also a professor at the Aichi University of Education. Drawing inspiration from Picasso and European Surrealists, Harumi has forged a distinctive and unmistakable aesthetic that is internationally recognized.

Selected Public Collections:

National Museum of Modern Art, Tokyo
Victoria & Albert Museum, UK
Museum of Arts & Design, NY
Everson Museum of Art, NY, NY
European Ceramic Work Center,
Netherlands
World Ceramic Exposition
Foundation, Korea
21st Century Museum of Contemporary Art, Kanazawa, Japan